Blairsville Campus Health Science Expansion Groundbreaking Celebration slated for April 29

Friends of North Georgia Technical College are invited to celebrate the construction of the Health Science Expansion on the Blairsville Campus on Wednesday, April 29, 2015, at 11:00 AM. Light refreshments will be served.

The creation of North Georgia Technical College’s Blairsville Campus in 1999 came as the result of concerted efforts by business and community leaders and elected officials to make post-secondary technical education available to the citizens of Towns, Union, and Fannin counties and the surrounding area. Because of the financial advantages of attending a local college and the changing economic environment, enrollment has grown and the college received funding for the addition.

When the campus opened in 1999, it seemed improbable that full capacity would be reached so quickly. With an eye toward future enrollment growth, the present building was designed to accommodate additional wings when course and student numbers dictated the need for increased space. There have been no additions or renovations since the original building opened but needed additional allied medical courses and student numbers now dictate that space must be increased.

This short ceremony will be held on the Blairsville Campus, located at 121 Meeks Avenue, Blairsville. For more information or to RSVP by April 23, contact Lorna Chapman, 706-754-7702 or lchapman@northgatech.edu.
